QUARTERLY ISSUES/PROGRAMS REPORT

KYW-TV, PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

CBS BROADCASTING, INC.

CERTIFICATION

On behalf of KYW-TV, I certify that a copy of the quarterly issues/programs report for KYW-TV, licensed to CBS Broadcasting, Inc. was placed in the station public inspection file on January 10, 2011.

Jon Hitchcock

President/General Manager

KYW-TV

January 10, 2011

KYW-TV 3 – PHILADELPHIA, PA QUARTERLY ISSUES PROGRAMS LIST CBS BROADCASTING, INC.

October 1, 2010 - December 31, 2010

Attached are listings of broadcast segments, which in the station's judgment reflect KYW-TV3's most significant programming treatment of ascertained community issues.

PROGRAM INDEX

KYW-TV Eyewitness News – weekdays, 5:00am – 7:00am; 12noon – 12:30pm:

4:00pm - 5:00pm; 6:00 - 6:30pm; 11:00pm - 11:30pm; weekends,

Saturday, 6:00am - 7:00am; 6:30pm - 7:00pm; 11:00pm - 11:30pm; and

Sundays, 6:00am - 8:30am; 6:00pm - 6:30pm and 11:00pm - 11:30pm, regularly scheduled news broadcasts focusing on the latest current issues.

Eyewitness Newsmakers – A rotation of KYW-TV News Anchors provide an approximately 10-minute segment, including newsmaker interviews, which airs during each Sunday morning newscast. Segments address current events on local and national fronts. The segments air in the 8:00am broadcast.

Talk Philly – weekdays, 12:00pm – 12:30pm; regularly scheduled lifestyle magazine program looking at a variety of topics that make the Philadelphia area so special. Hosted by Pat Ciarrocchi and Ukee Washington.

BUSINESS/ECONOMY/CONSUMER – Topics in this category include reports on rising gas prices and a crackdown on the mortgage industry and foreclosure proceedings.

Eyewitness News: 10/1 - (:14), Details people need to know about insurance coverage if their home or car is flooded; (:12), United and Continental airlines merge; 10/2 - (:02), Resorts casino in Atlantic City, NJ may lay off workers; 10/3 - (:15), Verizon agrees to pay some 90 million dollars in refunds to customers for faulty charges; 10/4 – (:14), "Ride The Ducks" tour boats will resume operations in March on the Schuylkill River; 10/5 – (:12), The hype over Google TV is heating up; (:15), Toyota officials say they've completed 5 million fixes to recalled vehicles in the United States; 10/6 – (:14), Retailers are joining forces against Amazon this holiday shopping season; 10/7 – (:13), Apple will make an i-Phone that will run on Verizon; 10/8 – (:24), The world's fourth largest drug maker Sanofi Aventis, based in Bridgewater, New Jersey, is eliminating seventeen hundred jobs and plans to layoff about twenty-five percent of workers in its U.S. pharmaceutical business; (:16), The latest unemployment report shows the economic recovery is moving at a slow crawl; (:14), Bank of America says it will stop selling foreclosed homes, in all 50 states; 10/12 - (:15), Digital journalist Nicole Brewer profiles the new Microsoft Smartphone to see how it stacks up to the iPhone; 10/13 - (:17), Federal regulators want to require all mobile device carriers to alert customers with voice or text alerts before running up extra charges; 10/14 – (:20), Government officials are cracking down on the mortgage industry – attorneys general in 50 states have launched a joint investigation into possibly botched foreclosure proceedings; 10/15 - (:14), Hundreds of workers laid off at Bucks county prescription processing center Express Scripts; (:12), Skype and Facebook are joining forces; 10/17 – (:16), An "Angie's List" report looks at federal tax credits that could save consumers money on energy-efficient home improvements; (:17), Game one of the NLCS is blacked out to cablevision customers in South Jersey due to a fee dispute between the cable carrier and the FOX network; 10/18 - (:14), A Facebook privacy breach with some apps exposing personal information; 10/19 - (:15), A study by the F-A-A found flight delays apparently are more costly to passengers than they are to the airlines; 10/22 - (:13), A look at which used-car models are targets for thieves; (:11), More Toyota/Honda cars recalled; 10/23 - (:23), Consumer reporter Jim Donovan reports on a used car shortage as prices go up since supply has gone down; 10/26 - (:18), The Borgata, one of Atlantic City's biggest casinos, is cutting its work force by three percent; 10/27 - (:19), According to the National Retail Federation, Americans will spend 18 percent more this year on costumes, candy and decorations for Halloween; 11/1 - (:11), Teva, a major pharmaceutical, company is moving to Philadelphia and bringing job opportunities in our area along with it; (:17), Atlantic City revenues are up but not for gambling, as more spending on hotels, restaurants and concerts is helping the bottom line; (2:00), EZ pass is fast, easy and convenient, allowing drivers to pay their tolls electronically but Consumer reporter Jim Donovan has found that some drivers may be getting overcharged as the system is not always accurate; 11/2 – (:22), Both Pennsylvania and New Jersey are now accepting applications for L.I.H.E.A.P. a low income energy assistance program which awards cash grants to help families pay for heat;

11/3 - (:14), The cotton crop takes a hit, which means some clothing prices are going up; 11/4 -(:17), American Airlines and Air Canada will partner with the Transportation Security Administration for a tag your own bag trial program; (:14), The Federal Reserve will pump 600 billion dollars into government bonds; (:16), General Motors is gearing up to sell stock to the public again for the first time since coming out of bankruptcy; 11/5 - (:17), Consumer reporter Jim Donovan tells us about a big push to get you to shop around for electricity and save on power; 11/9 - (:14), After a five year absence, Krispy Kreme is back in Philadelphia with a new location; 11/11 - (:19), Incoming Pennsylvania Governor Tom Corbett confirmed today that privatizing Pennsylvania's state-run liquor stores will be a top priority for him once he takes office; (:16), Online retail giant Amazon.com is flooded with criticism for selling an advice book for pedophiles; (:18), The U.S. government is proposing new graphic warning labels for cigarette packages; 11/16 - (:16), Digital journalist Nicole Brewer looks at Facebook's plans to revamp its messaging system to take on g-mail; 11/24 - (:15), The Philadelphia Parking Authority is giving holiday shoppers a gift - metered parking in the city will be free every Saturday during the holiday season; 12/2 - (:25), Johnson & Johnson's local plant is recalling 12-million bottles of Mylanta and close to 85-thousand bottles of Alternagel antacids; (:32), In Camden, New Jersey City Council approves a plan to lay off nearly 400 city workers to help close a 26-million-dollar deficit; 12/6 - (:26), Wawa has announced a partnership with the Pennsylvania lottery - every location in the Keystone state will have self-service machines by next spring - officials project this will draw in an additional 11-million dollars for programs benefitting the lives of area seniors; 12/7 - (:31), Atlantic City International Airport in New Jersey is working to attract more flights, new carriers and international flyers with a 25-million-dollar expansion; 12/8 - (:32), A new ordinance is in effect in Salem, New Jersey and officials say they're going to have to charge fees for fire department service; 12/10 - (:29), The historic Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, PA is going up for auction; (:23), Homeowners are paying a lot more to heat their homes than they did last year; 12/14 - (:27), The economy and competition have caught up with one of the oldest names in grocery stores, A & P, which owns Super Fresh and Pathmark stores in our area. The company has filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy; 12/17 - (:16), All bets are off for plans for the Foxwoods casino since Pennsylvania gaming regulators stripped the casino of its license; 12/21 - (:23), The FCC is ready to vote today on the so-called net neutrality rules which would prohibit phone and cable companies from abusing their control over broadband connections to discriminate against rival content or services; 12/22 - (:14), Consumer reporter Jim Donovan offers advice on making sure the money you give to charity is well-spent; (:16), American Airlines has yanked its listings from Orbitz.com following a legal dispute between the two companies; 12/30 – (:14), Gas prices are on the rise in PA, NJ and DE.

Talk Philly: 10/5 - (30:00), A local chef, Richard Halka, talks about how his son's autism diagnosis prompted him to quit his job and start his own business "Cheffeast" so he could spend more time with his family; 10/27 - (30:00), New Jersey entrepreneurs Andrew Marshall and Stephen Thompson talk about their business "Pyknic." The young men are named in Bloomberg

Businessweek as two of "America's Best Young Entrepreneurs." They talk about starting their t-shirt business here and plans to expand throughout the world.

CRIME – Topics in this category include reports on a serial strangler and the attempted abduction of a little boy near his home.

Evewitness News: 10/1 - (:17), Police make another arrest in the deadly hit & run in Haverford township that killed a Villanova student and injured another; (:16), Rutgers teen commits suicide because he was caught in a homosexual act with another man via another student's webcam; 10/4 - (:15), Gunman shoots four people in a NJ housing development, three people are dead including the shooter; 10/5 - (:14), Female suspect on the loose after beating an elderly man to death near Temple hospital; (:14), Two Philadelphia police officers are arrested in an undercover drug sting; 10/6 - (:16), Philadelphia police look for suspect in a robbery and sexual assault of a woman in Parkwood; (:13), Woman lied about having cancer to collect donations from people; 10/8 - (:21), Police are warning residents primarily in Chester County about a so-called knockknock scam that is on the rise; 10/10 - (:13), Juveniles shot while attending a vigil in Southwest Philadelphia; 10/12 - (:14), A new warning about joggers being attacked in Brandywine Park; 10/15 - (:14), A woman sexually assaulted in Olney overnight and the suspect is still on the loose; 10/18 - (:13), A man on a SEPTA bus diffused an argument involving a woman with a gun; 10/20 - (:13), Authorities are investigating the attempted abduction of a little boy right near his home in Bucks County; 10/22 - (:13), Thieves are stealing cell phones and other small electronic devices from passengers riding the SEPTA rails; 10/25 - (:14), A woman is assaulted on the campus of Chestnut Hill College and the suspect gets away; 10/26 - (:16), Police are investigating a disturbing case of animal cruelty - a dog is sawed in two and dumped in a woman's yard; (:16), Residents in South Philly woke up to find their vehicles splashed with a corrosive chemical this morning; 10/29 - (:16), Pennsylvania state police need help finding the elderly driver who drove the wrong way down two major roadways; 11/2 - (:17), Police are trying to track down a suspect who attacked a young woman in Philadelphia's Cobbs Creek Park; (:16), A Philadelphia man is now facing charges after allegedly leaving his two kids in a car at the Parx casino in Bucks County; 11/3 - (:18), A community activist known for seeking justice in her neighborhood needs help of her own after being beaten in her sleep; 11/5 – (:17), Police say some workers at Philadelphia International Airport are rummaging through passengers' luggage & stealing items; 11/8 - (:19), A high-ranking police officer who aspired to be Commissioner of the Philadelphia Police Department is due in federal court today on charges of extortion and bribery; 11/14 - (:27), A black male has been posing as a doctor at Christiana Hospital in Newark, DE wearing a white lab coat over jeans, he fondles women telling them he is performing a physical; 11/18 - (:18), A group of teens savagely attack two people on a busy SEPTA concourse in the middle of the day and the bullies are still on the loose; 11/21 – (:29), A Kent County man is behind bars charged with sexually assaulting two young children; 11/22 -(:14), Moorestown police look for a man in New Jersey who allegedly tried to lure a teen into his car; 11/23 - (:32), Police now say DNA confirms one suspect is responsible for the strangling deaths of 2 women in Kensington and released a composite sketch of the so-called "Kensington Strangler"; 12/2 - (:18), Two women were groped right on the street in the Spring Garden section of Philadelphia; 12/5 - (:31), A Philadelphia neighborhood is on edge, after another woman is found dead in Kensington and believed to be the latest victim of the strangler; 12/6 -(:20), The search for a serial strangler has intensified after another woman was attacked this morning but she got away; 12/8 - (:17), The Kensington strangler possibly strikes again another young woman's body is found in the neighborhood; 12/10 - (:21), A robbery spree targeting parking attendants in Philadelphia; 12/11 - (:19), A local woman is kidnapped at the Lehigh Valley Mall and forced to shop for items for her captor; 12/13 - (:38), A 15-year-old girl is telling police she was abducted and sexually assaulted in the Frankford section of the Philadelphia; 12/15 - (:21), Another woman's body is found in Philadelphia and there are fears that her death could have come at the hands of the Kensington strangler; 12/21 - (:25), A Montgomery County police officer is under arrest charged in a year long scheme and is accused of skimming money from people in the town he protects; 12/31 - (:29), Philadelphia police are investigating a baby's death at a homeless shelter this morning.

CULTURE – Topics in this category include reports on a man who travels all over the world to salvage military planes and the razing of a stalwart Philadelphia arena.

Eyewitness News: 10/1 - (:43), Digital journalist Nicole Brewer previews "The Social Network" a movie based on the creation of Facebook; 10/3 – (1:15), Season opener of the Opera Company of Philadelphia and an interview with the actors of "Othello"; 10/6 - (1:23), Profile of local fashion designer Carmelita Greco; 10/8 - (1:17), Interview with Jane Golden, Director of the Philadelphia Mural Arts Program, and video showcase of new mural dedicated to nurses; (1:03), A feature on Phillies superstitions - what fans, ballpark crews and even players do during postseason to ensure a win; 10/15 - (:22), A new light exhibit is on display in the Schuylkill river; 10/29 - (:25), A big night for the Philadelphia Orchestra as the widely acclaimed new music director takes the podium for his inaugural concert; 11/9 - (:19), A huge celebration is marking the 25th Anniversary of the Greater Philadelphia Film office; (:13), A new movie soundstage is opened in Aston, Delaware County; 11/10 - (:15), The National Museum of American Jewish History is about to open its doors on Independence Mall; 11/17 - (:37), Reverend Cedric Miller from the Living Word Christian Fellowship church in Neptune, NJ plans to ask his church leaders to dump their Facebook account or resign claiming that most of his recent marriage counseling has involved problems stemming from the social networking site; 11/18 - (:31), Part of a busy Philadelphia street has a new name in honor of legendary producers and songwriters Gamble and Huff. during a ceremony today, on the avenue of the arts the 300 block of South Broad Street was re-named "Gamble and Huff Walk" in recognition of the music icons; 11/19 - (:1:15), The Philadelphia branch of Susan G. Komen for the Cure held its "Tickled Pink" event tonight to empower teens to make a difference in the fight against breast cancer with fashion, fun, and friendships; 11/22 - (:27), The legendary Spectrum is set to meet the wrecking ball just hours from now; 11/26 - (:27), The city's newest holiday tradition is on display - the Comcast holiday spectacular debuted yesterday with a giant video wall featuring a 1940's swing style dance of jingle bell rock; 11/29 - (:32), A piece of history arrived in Philadelphia at the Library Company of Philadelphia where a copy of the emancipation proclamation belonging to Robert Kennedy was on display today. The original copy of the proclamation - signed by Abraham Lincoln - is only one of 25 to survive and will soon be auctioned off; 11/30 - (:32), Some complaints about the word Christmas prompt a big change at a village near Philadelphia City Hall. The "German Christmas Village" at Dilworth Plaza is now known as the "German Holiday Village"; 12/1 - (:20), It all started with a few complaints and city leaders planned to rename "Christmas Village" outside City Hall to "Holiday Village" but not anymore as public outrage over the controversy prompted officials to put the word Christmas back on the sign; 12/2 - (:11), Last night, the first candle was lit on an enormous Menorah at Independence Mall; (:31), Philadelphia's waterfront has a brand new attraction and it was officially christened today with the crack of a bottle, the "Philadelphia Belle" opened to the public and welcomed guests on board. The paddlewheel riverboat is the largest dinner cruise ship of its kind on the east coast; 12/3 - (:23), Chester County is at the center of the latest controversy over holiday displays. This year the county is not including an atheist group's "Tree of Knowledge" as part of a holiday display at the Chester County Courthouse in West Chester; 12/7 - (:34), Local wheelchair-bound high school students from Widener Memorial School are hearing an inspiring message from a woman who understands the challenges they face. Today, they had the chance to meet Ali Stroker - an actress in the Philadelphia Theatre Company production, "The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee." Stroker has been in a wheelchair since she was 2-years-old; 12/8 - (:26), A sneak peak tonight of the deep and dark psychological thriller "Black Swan" which opens in theaters on Friday and in which dancers from the Pennsylvania Ballet grace the silver screen in the film; 12/11 - (:29), A man with a name synonymous with Christmas heads to Bucks County for a very special performance. The last living descendant of Charles Dickens, his great great grandson Gerald is performing "A Christmas Carol" this weekend at Byers' Choice Christmas museum in Chalfont; 12/15 - (:34), The President's House opened to the public on Philadelphia's Independence Mall today. It's the footprint of the home of Presidents George Washington and John Adams when Philadelphia was the nation's capital from 1790-to-1800. The stories of nine slaves Washington kept in the house are being told in the outdoor exhibit.

Talk Philly: 10/14 – (30:00), Representatives from Philadelphia Ronald McDonald House charities talk about their newest fundraiser "Dining with the Stars" – a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to bid in an online auction for a chance to dine with one of Philadelphia's featured stars – to raise money for the two Philadelphia Ronald McDonald houses in our area; 10/26 – (30:00), Alex's Lemonade Stand Foundation is a non-profit based in the Philadelphia area which raises money for childhood cancer research & treatment. Liz Scott of ALSF visited Talk Philly to talk about Alex's Celebrity Casino Night – a big fundraiser for the charity; 11/10 – (30:00), Joe Brooks, President and COO of the U.S.O., talks about a Veterans Day event in which people can talk live via computer hookup to soldiers serving overseas; 11/29 – (30:00), The "Friends of Rittenhouse Square" invite viewers to their annual tree lighting and talk about the community effort to keep this neighborhood park beautiful during the holiday season; 11/30 – (30:00), Jewish-Italian Chef Alberto DelBello of local restaurant Il Portico shows us great recipes for Hanukkah; 12/13 – (30:00), Fred Hagan travels all over the world salvaging military planes. He is hoping to open a museum in the old Willow Grove Naval Air Station. He talks about his adventures, his plans and the movement to save the former naval air station.

ENVIRONMENT – Topics in this category include reports on the recent discovery of toxic chemicals in certain re-usable shopping bags and new green space along the Delaware River.

Eyewitness News: 10/3 - (:18), A Maryland couple's property is eroding into the Chesapeake Bay because of flooding and they cannot do anything to save it because an endangered bug species lives on property; 10/8 - (1:27), Consumer reporter Jim Donovan takes a look a salons using green products; (:17), Volunteers clean up a local park dedicated in honor of some Americans who made extraordinary sacrifices for our country; 10/12 - (:14), A highly flammable substance spills inside a plant in Port Richmond; 10/20 - (:16), Pilesgrove Township in Salem County New Jersey will soon be home to one of the largest solar farms in the northeast; 10/26 -(:20), Pennsylvania Governor Ed Rendell signed a major executive order at Philadelphia's Penn Treaty Park today which bans any further leasing of state forest land for the drilling of natural gas; 10/28 - (:20), There's a new green space along the Delaware river at Pier 53 near Washington Avenue. The new park has replaced concrete with native grasses and wildflowers; 10/29 - (:23), Tonight a drinking water warning has been issued for Winslow Township, Camden County in New Jersey. Residents are being told to boil their water before drinking it, because the water exceeds the maximum contaminant level for E. coli bacteria; 11/7 - (:18), A round of applause by homeowners in Cobbs Creek as Mayor Nutter thanks the water department for joining with a local green group to give 35 homes an "extreme green makeover"; 11/8 - (:16), Several organizations partner with the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society to plant two dozen trees in old city; 11/10 - (:15), The energy works program was launched by elected officials in the Philadelphia region today. This program provides low-interest loans to help pay for energy efficiency improvements; 11/15 - (:19), Re-usable and eco-friendly shopping bags are more popular than ever but now there's fear they could contain toxic chemicals; 11/18 - (:22), The Philadelphia Eagles are taking their going green initiative to new heights. They draw up a perfect play to help the environment with a plan to become the first stadium capable of generating all its own electricity.

GOVERNMENT – Topics in this category include reports on the Pennsylvania race for Governor and how the city of Philadelphia is trying to revive its mounted unit.

Eyewitness News: 10/4 - (:14), Voter registration deadline today for Pennsylvania general elections; 10/6 - (:16), Reform is coming slowly to the beleaguered Delaware River Port Authority; 10/9 - (:16), Tea Party controversy in New Jersey as Democrats are accused of planting a phony Tea Party candidate on the ballot; 10/10 - (:13), President Obama visiting Philadelphia to push for local Democrats; 10/11 - (:14), In the Pennsylvania race for Governor candidates Tom Corbett and Dan Onorato are attacking each other over jobs; 10/12 - (:22), In

New Jersey's third congressional district incumbent Democrat John Adler denies his campaign recruited a Tea Party candidate to take votes away from Republican Jon Runyan; (:16), The U.S. Supreme Court is hearing arguments today in a vaccine case brought on by a Pennsylvania family; 10/13 - (:23), The Philadelphia firefighters union's lawsuit against the city goes before a judge; 10/18 - (:18), A Burlington County man has launched a website to convince New Jersey Governor Chris Christie that he should run for president; 10/20 - (:19), Democrat Chris Coons and Republican Christine O'Donnell tangle over the first amendment and whether the Constitution mandates the separation of church and state; (:18), Starting today, a new law on the books in New Jersey requires drivers to clear all ice and snow from their cars before getting on the road; 10/26 - (1:15), David Thornburgh, the executive director of the University of Pennsylvania's Fels Institute of Government, analyzes the local races getting national attention; 10/27 - (:16), Vice President Joe Biden will be in Montgomery County today to help support congressional candidate Bryan Lentz; (:16), The federal government is telling all school districts that they can't turn a blind eye to bullying problems; (:21), New Jersey Governor Chris Christie officially canceled an enormous new train tunnel project under the Hudson River today. He says the state cannot afford the possible 10-to-13-billion dollar price tag; (:15), Philadelphia's City Controller is moving forward with a full scale audit of the Sheriff's office; 10/28 - (:16), Delaware U.S. Senate candidate Christine O'Donnell apologizes to a Wilmington radio station after threatening to sue it; 10/31 - (:15), A closer look at race between John Runyan and John Adler in the NJ third congressional district; 11/1 - (:14), First Lady Michelle Obama will visit Philadelphia to urge voters to head to the polls; (:17), A look at national races and how the results of tomorrow's midterm elections could affect the balance of power in congress; (:18), The Committee of Seventy says some absentee ballots are being returned to voters instead of being forwarded to the city's board of elections; 11/4 - (:21), The city of Philadelphia is set to try and revive its mounted unit. Local leaders and the Philadelphia Police Foundation are kicking off a fundraising campaign to help reincorporate the horses; 11/10 - (:17), Former Republican Vice Presidential nominee Sarah Palin visited Bucks County to talk about the outcome of the midterm elections; 11/11 - (:19), Startling new numbers are out showing how much blight is costing the City of Philadelphia so much; 11/15 - (1:15), Live interview with Mayor Nutter on the power shift in Pennsylvania from democrat to republican; (:25), An anti-bullying bill is gaining bipartisan momentum in the New Jersey legislature; 11/30 - (:23), A group of citizen soldiers from Pennsylvania is answering a call to service once again. Members of the National Guard were deployed today after a special ceremony at the Southampton Armory; 12/1 - (:14), PA Governor-elect Tom Corbett to cut his own salary when he takes office; 12/3 - (:25), Former Delaware Senate candidate Christine O'Donnell has a book deal. She is expected to offer her take on the campaign and her frustrations with the political process; 12/9 - (:30), The Philadelphia Housing Authority is celebrating the completion of projects funded by the stimulus package. PHA used more than 31 million dollars in stimulus funds to perform work on 340 sites around the city; 12/12 - (:15), Bill being taken up by NJ State Assembly to change way companies offer instant rebates; 12/15 - (:16), The Delaware River Port Authority will consider a measure today that would privatize its PATCO high-speed line; (:14), Tolls will be going up next year on all four of the big Delaware River bridges; 12/21 - (:17), Outgoing Pennsylvania Senator Arlen Specter delivers his final speech on the senate floor after serving three decades in the chamber; (:27), A big change is on the way for Social Security. The checks will no longer be in the mail. Starting May 1, 2011 new recipients of Social Security will have to accept paperless payments. Those already on Social Security will have until March 1, 2013 to make the switch to direct deposits or a debit card.

Newsmakers: 10/3 - (11:10), Rep. Joe Sestak, (D) Pennsylvania, talks about his U.S. Senate campaign; 10/10 - (12:20), Former Rep. Mike Fitzpatrick talks about his campaign in Pennsylvania's 8th District; 10/17 - (11:45), Rep. Patrick Murphy, (D) Pennsylvania, talks about his re-election campaign in Pennsylvania's 8th District; 10/24 - (10:30), Former Rep. Pat Toomey talks about his U.S. Senate campaign; 10/31 - (10:25), Allegheny County Executive Dan Onorato, (D) talks about his campaign for Governor of Pennsylvania; 11/7 - (12:00), Senator-elect Pat Toomey, (R) Pennsylvania, talks about his priorities once he is sworn into office in January 2011; 11/14 - (10:30), Rep. Allyson Schwartz, (D) Pennsylvania, talks about her goals of the lame duck session of the 11th Congress; 11/21 - (12:15), Pennsylvania State Rep. William Adolph, (R) Delaware County, talks about his new role as Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee; 11/28 - (12:00), Rep.-elect Jon Runyan, (R) New Jersey, on airport security, congressional orientation, and his priorities in the upcoming 112th Congress; 12/5 -(10:20), Dr. Justin Schakelman of CareerMinds.org talks about the November jobless figures, the results of a joint survey with Rutgers University on hiring, and the prospects of job growth in the Philadelphia area; 12/12 - (11:00), Small Business Expert and Author Gene Marks discusses the tax compromise between President Obama and Congressional Republicans, and the impact on jobs and the economy; 12/19 - (11:00), Rep.-elect John Carney, (D) Delaware, one of the few freshman Democrats in the 112th Congress, talks about his priorities as he prepares to be sworn into office, keeping jobs at the Boeing Plant in Delaware County, PA, and the prospects of working with a predominantly Republican House of Representatives; 12/26 - (12:10), Political Analyst Ed Turzanski analyzes the major events of 2010, including the midterm elections, and how they could shape 2011.

HEALTH – Topics in this category include reports on what people need to know to get through a health check up and a new therapy helping stroke survivors get their movement back.

Eyewitness News: 10/2 - (:15), African American women may be at higher risk for breast cancer because of Vitamin D deficiency; (:17), UV machines used in nail salons could lead to skin cancer, much in the same way as tanning beds; 10/4 - (:13), New evidence suggests cancer survivors may be more prone to memory trouble; (:13), A report released today claims women who take multivitamins are less likely to get heart disease; 10/6 - (:14), New research about how many drinks it's safe for a woman to have during pregnancy; 10/7 - (:14), A new study finds a mother's stress may make her child's asthma worse; 10/8 - (:13), A new study out of Japan finds men and women perspire differently; (:13), Obesity is being blamed on a growing number of arthritis cases; 10/11 - (:17), A study finds your ability to stick with a workout plan is related to the way your brain responds to reward & punishment; (:15), At home genetic test can help determine if you are at risk for certain types of cancer; 10/12 - (:16), For the first time, the government is allowing doctors to use embryonic stem cells in a medical treatment; (:15), New research shows gossiping can be good for self esteem making the person doing the talking feel more connected; 10/13 - (:17), A new report from the Institute of Medicine suggests revised nutrition ratings systems for the fronts of food packaging; 10/14 - (:23), The FDA is adding new warning labels to long-term osteoporosis drugs. there will also be a new medication guide to highlight the increased risk of rare thigh bone fractures among patients who take drugs like Fosamax and Boniva; (:17), New research shows walking at least six miles a week may keep your brain from shrinking, which may help preserve memory in old age; 10/15 - (:15), A new study finds watermelon can prevent the progression from pre-hypertension to hypertension; 10/18 - (:18), The American Heart Association is changing the way CPR is administered. The new method requires chest compressions first then mouth to mouth; (:14), Researchers from Yale believe they now know the key gene that triggers depression; 10/19 - (:15), Johnson and Johnson issues another recall involving Tylenol pills after consumers complained about a musty and moldy odor; 10/20 - (:16), A new study finds babies who were conceived in early spring may be more likely to develop food allergies; (:13), Doctors making house calls is becoming more popular again; 10/25 - (:17), There is new hope for asthma patients. Scientists say that bitter tasting foods may help the lungs breathe more effectively; (:14), The CDC expects the number of Americans with diabetes to double or triple by the year 2050; 10/26 - (:15), A new study shows heavy smokers may be twice as likely to develop Alzheimer's disease; (:19), Scientists discovered that a gene associated with narcolepsy, a disorder that causes excessive sleepiness during the day, can actually keep you up at night; 10/28 - (:15), New, high tech robo-therapy is helping stroke survivors get some of their movement back; 10/29 - (:13), A new study says extra virgin olive oil protects the liver; 11/1 - (:15), If you're looking to protect yourself against Alzheimer's, researchers say include B-12 in your diet; 11/2 - (:16), A new study says people who are physically fit have fewer colds; 11/3 - (:13), Black raspberries could be the next weapon against colon cancer; 11/4 - (:14), A drug used to treat asthma may also stop the spread of breast cancer cells; (:12), FDA approves Botox for migraine use; 11/8 - (:14), A new study finds children with high blood pressure may be at higher risk for learning problems; 11/9 - (:19), New research shows people who drank 100-percent fruit juice were more likely to meet recommended levels of certain key nutrients like calcium and potassium; (:15), A warning today from the Philadelphia Health Department about a possible mumps outbreak at a Jewish boarding school in West Philadelphia; 11/11 - (:14), A new study says drinks rich in fructose increases a woman's risk of gout; 11/15 - (:19), Doctors want federal regulation on energy drinks. They say the drinks are loaded with sugar and caffeine - some also contain herbal stimulants and alcohol; 11/18 - (:15), Scientists have discovered a genetic mutation that causes the most common form of eye cancer; 11/22 - (:18), A new study finds older adults with lower sodium levels were more susceptible to fractures and falls; 12/2 - (:14), Researchers may be closer to developing a biological test for autism; (:16), A new study shows women who repeatedly miscarry are at a higher risk of having a heart attack later in life; 12/7 - (:19), According to a new study a low dose aspirin, daily can substantially cut the death rates from common cancers such as lung, colorectal and prostate over a five year period; 12/10 - (:23), Johnson and Johnson is recalling several types of Rolaids due to reports of metal and wood in the products; 12/13 - (:35), Some evidence pomegranate juice may help fight cancer – researchers discovered components in the drink that seem to stop prostate cancer from spreading to the bone; 12/14 - (:15), The FDA is holding hearings to discuss the level of mercury in common dental fillings; 12/20 - (:18), A new study finds compounds in red wine can prevent cavities and plaque build-up; 12/22 - (:15), A new study shows people who smoke menthol cigarettes may have a harder time kicking the habit; 12/24 - (:16), Federal health officials are reminding everyone to get vaccinated for the flu before the season really gets underway; 12/29 - (:14), A new device could soon be available for people who suffer from sleep apnea.

Talk Philly: 10/4 - (30:00), A breast cancer survivor, Nicole Panico, tells her story of beating the disease and how her mother and aunt died from the disease. This has inspired her to walk in the Komen Philadelphia Breast Cancer 3-day. We invited viewers to walk or donate to the cause; 10/20 - (30:00), Dr. Anthony Abruzzi of Aria Health tells us what every person needs to know about getting a thorough health checkup.

MINORITY/ETHNIC – Topics in this category include reports on a movement to get African-Americans to shop in African-American owned businesses and the unveiling of a new Martin Luther King, Jr. statue in an area park.

Eyewitness News: 10/14 – (:17), A local community comes together for a vigil to raise awareness about suicides by lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender youth; 10/30 – (:15), A push by President Obama in our area encouraging African-American voters to turn out in the mid-term elections; 11/18 – (:15), The City of Chester unveiled a 5-foot bronze bust of Doctor Martin Luther King Junior located in MLK, Junior Park on Engle Street; 12/2 – (:24), A poster sparks a campus controversy at West Chester University – it advertises a college club – organized for white students only and has students of all races outraged; 12/3 – (:31), Students attended a youth power rally at South Philadelphia High School to remember an incident a year ago today when nearly 30-Asian students were violently attacked and to get students from all backgrounds to help make public education safe; 12/17 – (:25), The School District of Philadelphia has signed a four-year civil rights pact with the Justice Department to address anti-Asian violence that took place at South Philadelphia High School last December when a number of students were injured in a series of racially-motivated beatings; 12/28 – (:29), A Kwanzaa celebration is underway at the Free Library of Philadelphia through tomorrow and features performances by arts and culture groups from across Philadelphia.

Talk Philly: 12/10 – (30:00), Geoffrey Kent of the African American Chamber of Commerce and Maggie Anderson talk about her "Reverse 90 Campaign." That is a movement to get African-Americans to shop in African-American-owned businesses.

PUBLIC HEALTH & SAFETY – Topics in this category include reports on an emergency fund to aid seniors and a warning about road hazards involving deer.

Eyewitness News: 10/1 – (1:30), Severe flood conditions in all of Philadelphia and surrounding counties with evacuations underway, school closings, submerged vehicles, and power outages; 10/2 – (:15), President Obama to issue travel warning to Americans going to Europe because of Al-Qaeda threats; 10/5 – (:1:36), Interview with Philadelphia Fire Commissioner Lloyd Ayers for Fire Prevention Week with tips on how to keep your family safe; 10/6 - (:14), Seniors at a center city apartment building complain it's infested with bedbugs; 10/8 - (:18), More law enforcement officers than usual are patrolling Philadelphia's 30th Street Station, as part of a nationwide test of rail security; 10/9 – (:13), Lawmakers push for expanded texting and driving laws across PA; 10/11 - (:14), Mercedes-Benz is recalling 85 thousand cars because of a potential steering problem; 10/12 - (:18), A proposal to help prevent thefts in a Montgomery County community is stirring up controversy - police want to fine people who leave their cars unlocked; (:17), Gorton's is recalling its VIP fish sticks product because the fish sticks may contain pieces of hard plastic; 10/20 – (:30), Philadelphia Mayor Michael Nutter and city council are feeling more heat to dump the city's so-called "Rolling Brownout" policy, which shuts down various fire companies to save money; (:19), Graco is recalling 2 million strollers and travel systems because they pose an entrapment risk to young children; 10/26 - (:19), A major candy recall just days before Halloween - Nestle is recalling fun size Raisinets because there is a chance the candies contain peanuts posing a risk to people with nut allergies; (:15), A new app for smart phones could make it easier to keep track of sex offenders in your neighborhood; 10/27 - (:14), The first body scanner is making its debut at Philadelphia International Airport prompting privacy concerns for some; 10/28 - (:15), Nissan is recalling more than two-million vehicles worldwide because the engines may suddenly stall; 10/29 - (:27), An international terror scare puts our area on high alert as planes in both Philadelphia and New Jersey are searched for suspicious packages; 11/8 – (:14), A new AAA study shows the number of people falling asleep behind the wheel is startling; 11/14 – (:18), A day after a gunpoint robbery outside Sugarhouse Casino, a town watch group meets to discuss ways to keep patrons and the neighborhood safe: 11/16 - (:18), Authorities are warning drivers about a road hazard that you might not see coming this is one of the worst times of the year for crashes involving deer; 11/18 - (:14), Cracks in the frames of some Philadelphia Police cars are causing safety concerns; 11/22 – (:21), Police and PennDOT are teaming up to make this holiday travel season safer for drivers hitting the road with the "Click it or Ticket" campaign which got underway across the state today; 11/24 – (:21), Police across our area are stepping up enforcement to catch drunk drivers over the Thanksgiving holiday; 12/4 – (:29), There's a move to stop the violence in Philadelphia. Area politicians hosted a turn in your guns campaign today at the Chew Playground in South Philadelphia; 12/15 – (:36),

The government is now outlawing drop-side cribs which have been blamed for more than 30 infant and toddler deaths in the past decade; 12/26 - (:25), A reminder from Mayor Nutter to city residents that according to Philadelphia code the owner of any building or premises shall clear a path of no less than 36 inches in width on all sidewalks within 6 hours after snow has ceased to fall and failure to comply could result in penalties; 12/29 - (:18), Honda is recalling 18,500 snow blowers due to a potential fire hazard; 12/30 - (:17), Philadelphia officials are reminding people that it's dangerous and illegal to fire guns into the air for New Year's Eve celebrations.

Talk Philly: 10/21 – (30:00), MANNA (Metropolitan Area Neighborhood Nutrition Alliance) is an organization providing free, nutritious meals to homebound people living with HIV/AIDS, cancer, or other life-threatening illnesses. Executive director Richard Keaveney discussed their big fundraiser, Pie in the Sky. We encouraged people to order pies for Thanksgiving, and in turn make a contribution to MANNA; 11/8 – (30:00), AAA representative Rick Remington discusses a new study about the dangers of drowsy driving. He offers tips for drivers on how to stay awake behind the wheel; 11/18 – (30:00), Joanne Grossi, regional director for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, talks about the "Great American Smokeout." She discusses why quitting is good for you and offers ideas on how to stop smoking; 12/1 – (30:00), The Philadelphia Corporation for Aging discusses the lack of money in their Emergency Fund. The fund helps area seniors buy heating fuel, get medication, repairs on their home.

RELIGION – Topics in this category include reports on the true meaning of Christmas and the reaction of a Jewish community to terror threats on synagogues.

Eyewitness News: 10/6 – (:14), Philadelphia City Council votes to exempt church bells from noise ordinance after complaints from neighbors; 10/30 – (:13), Local Jewish community reacts to terror threat on synagogues; 11/19 – (:31), A pastor resigns after immigration agents and postal inspectors raid the rectory of a Philadelphia church at Incarnation of our Lord in Olney. The Archdiocese of Philadelphia says reverend Geraldo Piñero has stepped down pending the outcome of the investigation; 12/18 – (:33), The true meaning of Christmas on display in Northeast Philadelphia as kids of all ages turned out to see a live nativity reenactment of the first Christmas; 12/22 – (:23), The National American Jewish History Museum welcomed back some of its special collectors today – people who have held in private hands artifacts that are telling the story of American Jewish life; 12/25 – (:15), Roman Catholics welcomed the day at Saint Peter's Basilica with the traditional Christmas Eve mass. Security is heightened because of package bombings at two Rome embassies and breaches at the Vatican two years in a row during services.

WOMEN – Topics in this category include reports on a charitable program supporting women in Rwanda and the first female to head up Philadelphia's Union League.

Eyewitness News: 11/4 - (:16), The Southeastern Chapter of the American Red Cross honors four outstanding women at its 17th Annual Spectrum Awards; 11/15 - (:15), Profile of a mother who started a multicultural blog to help new mothers find advice; 12/14 - (:15), For the first time in its 148-year history the president of Philadelphia's Union League is a woman.

Talk Philly: 11/12 – (30:00), Beth Fier, a local psychiatrist, talks about her charity: SEED Supports. She is raising money for Rwandan women by selling fair-trade items made in Rwanda; 11/18 – (30:00), Nancy Brinker, founder of Susan G. Komen for the Cure, talks about her new book "The Promise." It tells the story behind the charity- her promise to her sister to find a cure for breast cancer.